5. Selection criteria

Organisations were able to submit nominations for up to three experts; however, no more than one stakeholder expert per organisation could be selected by EFSA.

EFSA has selected 10 stakeholder representatives from the 23 nominations received through this call, distributed in the following manner:

- three experts representing consumer organisations and NGOs;
- three experts representing the business or food industry, and distributors;
- three experts representing farmers, primary producers, practitioners;
- one expert representing academia.

The selection followed the principles established in EFSA's Stakeholder Engagement Approach and the provisions of the Decision of the Management Board of EFSA on the criteria for establishing a list of stakeholders and the establishment of the Stakeholder Forum and Stakeholder Bureau.

The Selection Board has thoroughly considered the following criteria:

- Interest in the field and expected benefits from the participation of the organisation as expressed in its application;
- Role and remit of the organisation at EU level;
- Achieving a balanced representation of stakeholder interests;
- Knowledge and expertise of the nominated stakeholder expert, considering the need for the Discussion Group to cover a wide range of technical and scientific areas, including bee health (i.e. beekeeping, veterinary sciences including bee diseases, ecotoxicology, chemical contamination, honey production), climatology and social sciences.

Upon the analysis of the applications, the Selection Board unanimously agreed on the list of selected stakeholder organisations, as indicated under Section 6. The names of the stakeholder experts and nominating organisations will be made publicly available at EFSA web site.

It is worth noting that, for the non-selected organisations there are several channels – including public consultations and open plenary meetings of EFSA Scientific Panels – which remain open, if they would be interested in interacting with EFSA.

In addition, depending on the nature of the issue, EFSA has the discretion to invite those organisations to participate as a non-registered stakeholder in targeted engagement platforms that we may run in the future where we believe their organisation's specific expertise may be useful or where they would benefit from hearing about our work.
