6.1. Discussion and possible adoption of the draft opinion on sterigmatocystin in food and feed (EFSA-Q-2010-01005)

The chair of the CONTAM WG on Aspergillus toxins presented the draft opinion on sterigmatocystin in food and feed (EFSA-Q-2010-01005), in which the European Commission had asked EFSA to assess the risk for public and animal health related to the presence of sterigmatocystin in food and feed. The CONTAM Panel discussed the draft opinion and requested further clarifications for certain chapters and conclusions. Therefore the draft opinion was not adopted in the plenary meeting, and it will be presented for discussion at the 58th CONTAM Panel meeting (20-22 March 2013) and for possible adoption in the CONTAM Panel meeting in May 2013.

6.2. Discussion and adoption of the draft guidance on methodological principles and scientific methods to be taken into account when establishing reference points for action (EFSA-Q-2011-00149)

The chair of the CONTAM WG on RPA presented the approach for the guidance on establishing reference points for action (EFSA-Q-2011-00149) following the consultation with the EFSA Scientific Committee in the meeting held 26-27 November 2012<sup>7</sup>. The CONTAM Panel discussed the principles of the approach and proposed further aspects to be taken into consideration. The revised draft guidance document will be presented for discussion at the 58th CONTAM Panel meeting (20-22 March 2013).

6.3. Discussion and endorsement of the draft chapters related to public health hazards to be covered by meat inspection of Bovine (EFSA-Q-2011-00111) and Sheep and goats (EFSA-Q-2011-00960)

The chair of the CONTAM WG Meat inspection – contaminants presented the draft chapters of the opinions on contaminants in relation to meat inspection of bovines (EFSA-Q-2011-00111) and of domestic sheep and goats (EFSA-Q-2011-00960). The CONTAM Panel endorsed both chapters subject to incorporation of minor changes as suggested during the meeting. The three chapters from the three different Panels will be integrated into a single Scientific Opinion by the SCICO WG. This Scientific Opinion will be then submitted for adoption by the BIOHAZ Panel. The chair of the CONTAM Panel expressed her appreciation to the members of the WG Meat inspection contaminants for the preparatory work of these draft chapters.

6.4. Discussion of the draft chapters related to public health hazards to be covered by meat inspection of Domestic solipeds (EFSA-Q-2011-00962) and of Farmed game (EFSA-Q-2011-00961)

The chair of the CONTAM WG Meat inspection contaminants presented for discussion the approach to take for the other two remaining chapters of the draft opinions on meat inspection of domestic solipeds (EFSA-Q-2011-00962) and of farmed game (EFSA-Q-2011-00961). Both chapters will be presented for possible endorsement at the 58th CONTAM Panel meeting (20-22 March 2013).

7. New mandates

7.1. Request from the European Commission for a scientific opinion on the risks and benefits of fish/seafood consumption as regards methylmercury (EFSA-Q-2013-00006)

The European Commission has requested EFSA to assess risks and benefits of fish/seafood consumption as regards methylmercury (EFSA-Q-2013-00006) with a deadline of December 2013. The CONTAM Panel discussed this mandate and concluded that since the Panel has assessed the risks related to methylmercury in the last year (opinion published December 2012) there is currently no need to carry out a new risk assessment. Thus the CONTAM Panel proposed that it would not be the leading Panel for this mandate and the mandate should be re-allocated.

7.2. Discussion on acrylamide in food (EFSA-Q-2013-00007)

The European Commission has requested EFSA to carry out a risk assessment on acrylamide in food (EFSA-Q-2013-00007) with a deadline of September 2013. The CONTAM

Panel noted that the deadline is very tight. This will be further discussed between EFSA and EC.

This request was sent to EFSA since the last CONTAM Panel meeting when a joint letter from Technical University of Denmark, National Food Institute (DTU Food), French Agency for Food, Environmental and Occupational Health and Safety (ANSES), National Food Safety Agency, Sweden (NFA Sweden) and Federal Institute for Risk Assessment, Germany (BfR) on acrylamide was discussed<sup>8</sup>. Due to the common interest of the abovementioned organisations and the European Commission, EFSA will organise a teleconference between the interested parties to discuss common matters in relation to the request on acrylamide in food.
