EFSA Hackathon|#MakeithAPPen

EFSA, Parma, 24 September 2016

Public administrators across Europe are using digital technologies to improve openness and transparency and find new ways of engaging with citizens and stakeholders.

In this spirit, EFSA is holding a Hackathon competition to develop a mobile app that gives quick and user-friendly access to information on EFSA's work.

On 24 September, on the occasion of the competition's final round, EFSA is holding a one-day event on information and communication technologies (ICT) within the public sector.

In the morning, the finalists of the Hackathon will present their mobile apps. The winners will be announced at the end of the day.

In the afternoon, ICT experts and representatives from public institutions will share their experiences during a roundtable discussion on "ICT-enabled innovation within public administration".

The event will be an opportunity to gain valuable insights and discuss ideas about innovation.
