4. Report on written adoption procedure since 116th Plenary meeting

There were no outputs submitted for written adoption since the previous GMO Panel plenary meeting.

5. Scientific outputs submitted for discussion and/or possible adoption

5.1. Assessment of genetically modified maize GA21 for renewal of authorisation under Regulation (EC) 1829/2003 (application EFSA-GMO-RX-005) (EFSA-Q-2016-00714)

This was the first time the GMO Panel discussed the draft opinion.

Maize GA21 produces the CP4 EPSPS protein, conferring tolerance to glyphosate. This single event had been assessed by the GMO Panel in the context of applications EFSA-EFSA-GMO-UK-2005-19 and EFSA-GMO-RX-GA21⁵ and was authorised by Commission Decision 2008/280/EC; application EFSA-GMO-RX-005 was submitted to EFSA in the context of the renewal of the authorisation.

The GMO Panel adopted this scientific opinion, which will be published in the EFSA Journal.

5.2. Mandate to develop guidelines on possible derogation of existing requirements for applications of genetically modified (GM) food and feed at low levels submitted under Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 on GM food and feed (EFSA-Q-2015-00433)

This draft guidance had been discussed in previous plenary meetings, the last of which was April 2017 GMO Panel plenary meeting.⁶ Since then, it had gone through a public consultation (2 May – 13 June 2017) and the received comments were taken into account by the dedicated WG when updating the draft text. A summary of the received comments and the subsequent changes to the document was presented to the GMO Panel.

The GMO Panel discussed and amended the draft text as needed.

The GMO Panel adopted this scientific opinion, which will be published in the EFSA Journal.

5.3. Assessment of genetically modified maize 1507 x 59122 x MON810 x NK603 and subcombinations for food and feed uses, under Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 (EFSA-GMO-NL-2011-92) (EFSA-Q-2011-00116)

The GMO Panel had discussed this application in the previous plenary meeting.⁷

The GMO Panel revised the draft opinion, focusing on the following sections: updated information on the events, information on the expression of the events, environmental risk assessment, risk assessment of subcombinations, and overall conclusions and recommendations.

The GMO Panel adopted this scientific opinion, which will be published in the EFSA Journal.

5.4. Assessment of genetically modified maize MON 87427 x MON 89034 x MIR162 x NK603 and subcombinations, for food and feed uses, under Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 (EFSA-GMO-NL-2016-131) (EFSA-Q-2016-00148)

This was the first time the GMO Panel discussed the draft opinion.

Maize MON 87427 x MON 89034 x MIR162 x NK603 was obtained by conventional crossing of genetically modified maize lines MON 87427, MON 89034, MIR162 and NK603. Maize MON 87427 and NK603 produce CP4EPSPS, which confers tolerance to glyphosate. Maize MON 89034 produces two newly expressed proteins, Cry1A.105 and Cry2Ab2, which confer resistance to specific lepidopteran pests. Maize MIR162 produces Vip3A and PMI proteins, which confer resistance to specific lepidopteran pests and function as a selection marker, respectively.

The GMO Panel discussed the draft opinion, focusing on the agronomic and phenotypic characteristics and the toxicological assessment of the four-event stack. Further discussion is needed.

5.5. Assessment of genetically modified maize MON 87403 for food and feed uses, under Regulation (EC) No 1829/2003 (EFSA-GMO-BE-2015-125) (EFSA-Q-2015-00430)

A member of the GMO Unit presented an overview of the field trial data submitted in the context of application EFSA-GMO-BE-2015-125, focusing on the representativeness of the test material. Maize MON 87403 produces the ATHB17 transcription factor, which leads to increased ear biomass at the early reproductive phase compared to conventional maize. Further discussion is needed.
