Declaration of compliance and supporting documentation

- ★ The declaration of compliance (DoC) is to be shared with customers and may be mandatory under national rules.
- ★ Appropriate supporting documentation demonstrating compliance - from which a DoC may be derived - may contain confidential information to be kept in-house and must be made available to official enforcement authorities, at their request.
- ★ The Guide aims to help business operators (BO) generate and/or compile documentation, while offering control authorities an overview of all suitable proof of compliance.

Principles

★ The guide emphasises the shared responsibility along the production chain, from the starting substances.

★ The safety

- ★ of substances or components not listed in national or European repertories as evaluated officially,
- ★ reaction products (including oligomers and degradation products),
- ★ and impurities

must be evaluated "in accordance with internationally recognised scientific principles on risk assessment, and, where appropriate, with guidance" (Resolution CM/Res(2020)9, Guiding Principles, Section 4).
