Call title: Selection of hosting sites for EFSA's European Food Risk Assessment Fellowship (EU-FORA) Programme

Question 1:

Regarding the call "Selection of hosting sites for EFSA's European Food Risk Assessment Fellowship (EU-FORA) Programme", I would like to know if it is compatible that the same investigator could apply for this call with two different topics and, therefore, with two different applications, acting as coordinator (applicant) in one of them and as a partner in the another one.

Answer 1:

Yes, it is possible for an article 36 organisation to propose more than one topic for a fellowship programme. Each application should be submitted in a separate application form. It is also possible to act as coordinator in one application and partner in another application.
