

Joint DG SANCO -- EFSA -- ECDC seminar

hosted by Dagmar Roth-Behrendt

EP Vice-President

Animal-to-human diseases: How does Europe protect its citizens?

10 October, 2011

16.30 – 18.30

Room A3-H1

European Parliament, Brussels

- Welcome by Dagmar Roth-Behrendt, Vice-President, European Parliament
- Introductory remarks by Catherine Geslain-Lanéelle, EFSA Executive Director, Marc Sprenger, ECDC Director, and Bernard van Goethem, DG SANCO Director
- EU regulatory framework to protect consumers: the success of Salmonella controls in particular – by Bernard van Goethem (DG SANCO)

Discussion

- Trends in Salmonella, Campylobacter and other food-borne zoonoses in the EU – joint presentation by Johanna Takkinen (ECDC) and Pia Makela (EFSA)

Discussion

- The burden of food-borne diseases in Europe – by Prof Arie Havelaar, Member of EFSA's BIOHAZ Panel

Discussion

- Challenges and lessons learned from the 2011 E. coli outbreaks epidemiological investigations – by Hubert Deluyker (EFSA)

Discussion

- Concluding remarks