

The Science of Food Safety –What's our Future?

21st & 22nd August 2019
The Convention Centre, Dublin

Call for abstracts

- Now open
- Deadline 23rd March 2019
- Parallel sessions
 - Microbiological food safety
 - Chemical food safety
- Oral or poster presentation
- Lightning talks
- www.foodsafety2019.com/programme/call-for-abstracts/

Keynote presentations

- The Future of Risk Assessment in Europe

Dr Bernhard Url, Executive Director of EFSA

- Future Challenges in Food Microbiological Risk Assessment

Prof Seamus Fanning, UCD Centre for Food Safety

- Future Challenges in Food Chemical Risk Assessment

Dr Diane Benford, Vice-chair EFSA Scientific Committee

- Science to Support Regulation

Prof Albert Flynn, University College Cork

- Food Safety Research Funding Opportunities in Europe

Dr John Bell, DG Research and Innovation

Session themes

Microbiological Food Safety

- Foodborne viruses: Regulatory gaps and future controls
- Regulatory challenges arising from patho-adaptive changes
- The balance between consumer demands and biological food safety
- AMR: A call to action!

Chemical Food Safety

- Chemical Safety Challenges for sustainable food
- (Re-) Emerging chemical safety risks
- The balance between consumer demands and chemical food safety
- Regulatory Challenges impacting Food Innovation

Registration now open!

Registration Category	Early Bird Fees	Late Fees
	Deadline: 18th May 2019
Full Delegate	€395.00	€450.00
Student	€295.00	€350.00

Conference fee includes: Attendance to all main conference sessions, tea/coffee and lunch breaks as well as delegate materials.

Registration: www.foodsafety2019.com/registration

We look forward to welcoming you to Dublin!

